Are all first author names listed in the format of Last name, First name? For example: Smith, John.

Is your bibliography/reference list alphabetized by the last name of the first author for each source?

Are all article titles surrounded by quotation marks?

Are titles of major works, like book, magazine, newspaper, and journal titles, italicized?

If you are citing electronic sources (websites, electronic articles), have you included retrieval information (DOI or URL) for these sources?

If you're using information from library databases that don't have a DOI, have you included the database name?
