Top Five Things to Know about the Library for online students in the Applied Behavior Analysis program

1. How to get to the Applied Behavior Analysis subject guide

From the library’s main page click on Research Subject Guides. Scroll down to Applied Behavior Analysis.

Here you will find the top resources recommended by the program director and faculty in your program at Northeastern University.

2. How to contact your subject librarian

On the same page on the left side you’ll see a profile box for me, Kathy Herrlich, the subject librarian and liaison to your program. You can send me an email or click on the box to schedule an appointment. We have phone and video appointments as well as in person.

3. How to use the 24 hour chat reference service to contact a librarian

From the library’s main page, on the right side, scroll down to Ask A Librarian

There are various ways to contact us

Click on Online Chat Available 24/7 to reach a librarian at any time of the day

4. How to find Interlibrary loan (ILLIAD)

From the library’s main page on the right side, scroll down to Interlibrary Loan
Click on Access your ILLIAD account to register with ILLIAD. This allows you to access additional books and articles-- beyond what is held at the Northeastern University library. When you request an article, the form will go directly to someone in the library who may be able to obtain and send you the PDF within a day or two, scanned from another library. This is particularly useful for difficult-to-access materials.

5. Research Tutorials

From the library’s main page click on Research Subject Guides
Scroll down to Research Tutorials

Scroll through videos, slides and infographics on many topics, as a refresher or to learn new skills. For example, here is an APA checklist. There is also a tutorial for how to use Interlibrary Loan.

If you have any questions, don’t forget to contact a librarian!
